Whereas, A call for a Northern Convention to follows: assemble today in this city has been issued and and without questioning the motives of the committee of arrangements postponing, will hold a conhidering the arrest by an officer duly authorized.

From the Liberator. MEMORIAL OF THE COLORED CITIZENS guilt, unless there has been an express command or requisition requiring him to assist in the arrest.

We the undersigned, colored inhabitants of the State of Wisconsin, would once more exercise the right, which is guaranteed to all the people, peaceably to assemble, and petition the Government for a redress of Grievances. We complain of Art. 3d, Sec. 1st of the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin. We now ask your honorable body to regard our feeble request, and remove this heel of oppression that a vote was taken by the people in 1849, and that a vote was taken by the people in 1849, and make the arrest.

In speaking of this I will remark again that the perthat a majority of votes were cast in favor of suffrage—thereby taking away our disability, and restoring unto us the right of free suffrage. We would ask your honorable body to confirm the vote taken in '49, (if it be correct,) and place it upon the Statute Book of Wisconsin; or, if the vote referred to be incorrect, then we ask that the question be once more submitted to the people, to say, by their vote whether we shal! be restored to equal citizens of Wisconsin to all intents and purposes, and are of right entitled to all the immunities of citizens of the Commonwealth. And we believe with the Fathers of 'Seventy-six,' that taxation and representation should go together; that to tax us, which might unite for his comfort and proposes, and representation should go together; that to tax us, which may be a positive slave, and that knowledge that the person and that knowledge that the person and that knowledge that the person was a fugitive slave, and representation should go together; that to tax us, while we are not allowed to be represented, is but to enact, upon a grander scale, the outrages that forced our Revolutionary Fathers to treat King George to a Continental Tea Party in Boston. In laying this important at the property of the charge, the Grand Jury retired to deliberate upon the various matters which may be brought before them. The fugitive slave case referred to by Judge Leavitt, in his remarks, will probably occupy no little time in the investigations by the jury.—Cincinnati Gazette. laying this important subject before year honorable body, we would say, give us equal suffrage and impunities. But, surely, we need not quote the field of Nationsfor the justice of our cause; for no man that has the least moral perception with this great truth of Revelation before him that ye would that men should do unto you, do you get of our request. Our forefathers recognized this doctrine, when they declared that All men are preaded equal; that they are endowed by their Creation with certain inalienable rights; that a mong these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. They also estaticed the same principle when king George imposed taxes on them without their ground Railroad." He, therefore, watched him consent, 'in nonsequence of which they appeal to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of their intantions. They also declared that the Constitution was ordained for the express purpose of 'establishing justice and to ensure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general welfare, and secure the plessings side of the river; and success the time of their tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general welfare, and secure the plessings side of the river; and successing him so much trouble.
